MC-40I/E

Wednesday, June 22, 2011

Discrete AES Input

LED's 0-5 indicate valid HD or SD video presence when on.

VR LED indicates valid reference.

A1 indicates valid AES signal.

CPU indicates the CPU is active

CFG indicates programmable devices configured.

PWR indicates all voltages okay.

EN indicates active ethernet

BAT indicates battery failure.

CPU reset switch

Debug port

Note: All other connectors and jumpers are normally not intended for customer use.

Router switchable Key input Router switchable Fill input SN: 121065-0001-00122 UTAH SCIENTIFIC INC. Monitor / Time key video out PS1 & PS2 indicates out of range voltage(s) via flashed code Program Video Out #1 Program Video Out #2 gin gin gin Ethernet dongle connections

DIP Switch

- 1 Do not run Linux if ON
- 2 Use partition 1 if OFF, partition 2 if ON
- 3 5 No function
- 6 Start Linux, but do not start application if ON
- 7 Place scangate part in Bypass if ON

Note: Normal operation has all switches OFF

Watch-Dog Enable / Disable Jumper Place jumper between pins 1 & 2 to enable and 2 and 3 to disable.

Mid-Plane Connector

MC-40I/E Connections

